

COURSES IN CONGO

Participants in the conjugal love course in Kinshasa.

"Dear Leticia: I send you the photos of the launch of the two courses that we organize in Kinshasa for the conjugal love course. There is a group of 12 couples in Righini and another group of 13 couples in Mbinza. We have been asked to begin another course in another neighborhood of Kinshasa but, for the moment, we decided to wait because of the unavailability of moderators. For the First Steps course we have just begun with 12 new couples". Gaston Asitaki

VIENNA NGO COMMITTEE ON THE FAMILY

Participants in the International Forum

On November 20th took place the 12th International Seminar of The Vienna Ngo Committee On The Family, with the topic "Compatibility of Family and Professional Life: Cohesion or Conflict". The main ideas that were brought up during this forum were: to reduce professional work so that both, men and women, spend more time in the family; the need of more family-friendly enterprises and the need of understanding the correct relationship between family and professional work, based on the priority of family life as a goal and the professional life as a mean to serve the family.

SOCRATES MEETING IN POLAND

Santiago Garcia explaining the fundamentals of the case method

The first meeting of the project G2 took place in Warsaw during the last weekend of October. José A. Sánchez and Santiago García (Spain), Marina Robben and Madelene (Belgium) and Magda and Marek, along with other six participants (Poland) gathered to distribute the tasks among the national associations. The EU finances this project and its aim is to reduce school failure in pre-adolescence with the joint work of parents and teachers in the frame of Family Enrichment.

Besides this Socrates Project the Polish promoters have planned 8 First Steps courses, a trial of First Letters in the schools and courses for formation of moderators and team leaders. This marvellous Polish team, with their happiness and generosity, is teaching us to make a better society.

REGISTRATION FORM AVAILABLE

Congress brochure in English and Italian

The registration form for the Congress is already available in our website. Please register asap. The payment instructions are there too, as well as some lodging information. There will be child-care service but only during the two conferences and the roundtable. The rest of the time kids will be responsibility of their parents.